

"Would You Rather" Questions

Thanksgiving Edition

Here are a few ways to play:

- Daily Warm-Up or Cool-Down: Read a few questions each day in the week leading up to Thanksgiving break as a quick icebreaker. This can help set a positive tone at the start of class or serve as a fun wind-down activity before dismissal.
- 5-Minute Fun Breaks: Dedicate the last 5 minutes of each period or subject to ask students a few questions. This can be a great way to end on a high note and keep them engaged as the day wraps up.
- Corner Voting: Ask a question and have students walk to different corners of the room to show their answers. For example, "Apple pie? Go to the left corner! Pecan pie? Head to the right corner!" This gets students moving and makes the game interactive.
- Classroom Discussions: As you read each question, encourage students to explain their choices. Share your answers too—it adds a personal touch and encourages students to share their stories or memories, building connections within the class.
- A Special Holiday Event: Plan to play the game all at once on the day before holiday break. It can be a fun, stress-free activity to end the day with laughter and lively conversation.
- Remember, there's no right or wrong answer—just enjoy hearing everyone's opinions! 🗨️😊
